EDITOR'S NOTES

Tearful Lecture!

By ED LEVITT

Highlighting the local scene... A lecturer here the other afternoon was so choked emotionally by his own words on the sad plight of Woodrow Wilson, students noted tears in his eyes. Which led one wisecracker to remark: "It was the saddest lecture I ever enjoyed!"

State has a mother and daughter combination attending here as full time students.

The daughter, Mrs. Lee Montgomery, is a transfer student from the University of California. The mother, Mrs. Lionel Sandford, a former teacher, attended a Georgia university last fall. Both mother and daughter may graduate together.

What with State coeds basking in the sun in abbreviated play suits, the campus resembles a summer resort. The female attire is so brief, that some of the girls here shockingly report they feel out of place in dresses.

Latest figures on the World Student Service Fund drive on campus shows that Staters contributed $710.11. Biggest money drawer was Courtney Pontious, president of the Speakers' Bureau. George Allen, WSSF committee chairman here, estimated that Pontious, through talks and personal salesmanship, raised over $200.

Stater Jim Gunter has his own idea on how to avoid illegal parking tickets. The suave Mr. Gunter, who daily parks his car next to a fire plug, merely places a second hand parking tag under his jalopy's windshield wiper. It is that simple. Hmmm.

Sports Quickie: Coach Ward Carr is assuming the role of the town's top upsetter. Some months ago, a rugged group of Santa Clara boxers came here favored to thrash State's boxing squad. Just the reverse happened. Coach Carr's boys toppled the Broncos' ambitions. Last week a Carr-coached team did it again. This time State's golf squad throttled the highly touted St. Mary's linksmen. Bring on the Bears!

Among the many captions in the new Franciscan is this blushing prose: "... Mabel, Mabel, sweet and able, take your elbows off the table." But what happen to the beer?

Walt Travis represented State last night in the Seventh Annual Hearst Newspaper Tournament of Orators at the University of San Francisco. Eleven college speakers delivered six minute talks on Alexander Hamilton. U. S. Savings bonds were awarded the winners. Among the five contest judges was ex-Stater Stuart Bennett, currently tutoring at U. S. F.

The Golden Gater's April 22 editorial, "Is The Far Western Conference Worth It?" (which suggested dropping out of the FWC and operating independently against the "name" colleges), continues to draw considerable comment on the balcony. The athletic boys are divided on the subject. In the meantime, the topic is proving the liveliest since the election. (See SPORTS BEAT for more details.)

The battle still rages at Sacramento!

President Leonard was trying to raise $4,000,000 from the State Legislature to add to the present $3,500,000 appropriations.

Anson Boyd, state architect, said he could spend that much this year on construction of the new campus—if the college can secure it.

Chester MacPhee, member of the Board of Supervisors, agreed to introduce the resolution in the Legislature.

In a last minute development, however, the Ways and Means committee asked for the slashing of two million dollars from State's original construction budget.

Our Capitol City scout is standing by.

Spring Carnival Program Ready

A spring carnival to be held on campus, commemorating State's 50th anniversary, has been okeed by the Board of Directors, to take place Wednesday, May 25, Jim Schwerdt, carnival chairman, announced today.

Scheduled to outdo anything before, the carnival will begin in the afternoon and last until 11 p.m., climaxed by dancing in the Women's Gym.

Festivities will entail booths by campus organizations, games, a beard-growing contest and entertainment. Garb for the day-long celebration will be plaid shirts and jeans for the men, cotton dresses for the women.

Organized and set into operation by the Club Advisory Council, the carnival is sponsored by the Associated Students, with everyone to participate.

LIMOUSINE SERVICE

Limousine service and costumes will include limousine service for two for one day, tickets to the Mark Hopkins Hotel for two and others.

Tuesday, May 24, there will be a "Homestead Race," Schwerdt said. One member of every organization will go to Paige and Buchanan Streets at 1 p.m. and race to Upper Field from their booth location. From there they will dash to the land office and stake their claim.

SIGN UP FOR BOOTHS

Schwerdt urges all organizations to sign up for their choice of booths on the bulletin board in Hut 4-A, and to decide what they want in the way of prizes and submit them to him. He urges, too, that carnival committee members get busy on the reports due May 16. "State needs something all students can participate in," Schwerdt said. "This is it."

Senior Hop Ducats Selling at Co-op

Bids for the Senior Ball Saturday night, May 21, will be on sale next week in front of the Co-op at $3 per couple. They may also be obtained in the student body office in Hut 4-A. Howard Fredericks and his orchestra will provide music for the dance, which will be held in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel.

In keeping with the custom of other major colleges in the Bay Area, a no-corseage rule will be enforced. The Ball is strictly formal, which means that men must wear tuxedos and women must have formal.

Volunteers are needed for work on any of the following committees: publicity, decoration and floor. Students who want to contribute their time may contact Ken Shelley, class president, or Yvette Codis, vice-president of the senior class.

Science Session Sign-up June 3

State will conduct its 1949 Field Science Session near Fallen Leaf Lake, El Dorado County, California, from June 13-25. Dr. Carlos Mundt, professor of astronomy, stated this week.

Fee for the session is $9 per unit. No other fees or charges have been set by the college. Registration for the trip must be completed by June 3 in order that definite plans may be made by all who wish to attend, Dr. Mundt emphasized.

Twelve qualified persons will constitute a group. Checks for tuition fees may be made payable to the Comptroller of the College, and should the session be canceled because of insufficient enrollment, the fees will be returned, he said. Although the college does not provide room or board, accommodations at the hotel, housekeeping rooms, or camping facilities are available.

Courses given this year include B.S. s22, Biological Natural History of the Sierra Region, alternate days, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Geology s55, Field Studies in Geology, alternate days, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Both courses carry one unit. Because of the alternation of trips in the classes, students will have ample time to enjoy the country, plus fishing and boating.

Vacation Scholarships Available

A chance to vacation in the high Sierras for free is being offered to qualified State students. The Lake Tahoe region, site of the new recreation camp, offers much in the way of hiking, swimming, fishing or just plain loafing—but some work will be required in building the new camp.

Approximately 30 students will receive scholarships of room and board for a two-week period at State's Sierra County Recreation Camp, Mr. Charles B. Cranford, assistant professor of physical education, said this week.

The scholarships will be given to students desiring to aid in the construction of the camp this summer. Eight of them will be given away every two weeks.

The issue was decided by the State College Foundation and a student committee of the Board of Directors. Those wishing to apply for scholarships may do so by consulting Mr. Cranford. Choosing of the men is subject to final approval by a faculty committee, Mr. Cranford said.

Drama Frat To Present 'Oscarettes'

First annual awards for outstanding achievement in the dramatic field will be presented this Thursday evening at a dinner in the Co-op, sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary drama fraternity.

Awards will be presented for outstanding actor, actress and student director. Presentations will also be given for outstanding work in the technical phases of drama, creative effort and overall contribution to theater.

Selections will be made by a committee consisting of J. Fenton McKenna, professor of speech and drama; Clarence A. Miller, assistant professor of speech and drama; Elias T. Arnesen, chairman of the division of humanities; Frances Stockwell and Arlie Fowlkes, College Theatre members.

Any interested persons are invited to attend. Tickets for the dinner are $2 and may be purchased from members of Alpha Psi Omega.

Guest speaker will be Edward P. Murphy, judge of the Superior Court of San Francisco. Drama critics of the Bay Area have been invited to attend.

Alumni Sheet Out Next Tuesday

Alumni Association has undertaken the publishing of an association paper, according to Mr. Allan Howard, alumni president.

Art Blum, former Golden Gater editor, is editing the alumni sheet. The publication, a four-page, will be issued on a bi-monthly basis, and will contain articles from the Golden Gater as well as news compiled by association members.

The first edition will make its debut Tuesday, and will be mailed to State alumni and faculty.

'Jubilee' Starts Wednesday

State's Golden Jubilee celebration will be launched officially with a college assembly next Wednesday morning at 10 in the First Baptist Church, Octavia and Waller Streets.

The assembly will have as its theme "Fifty Years of Progress" and will feature addresses by President Leonard and other faculty members.

All classes will be excused and all school offices will be closed at 9:50 to afford everyone the opportunity to attend.

Tickets on Sale For Kampus Kapers Musical on May 23

Tickets are now on sale for the second annual production of "Kampus Kapers," which will run from Monday, May 23, through the 28th. This year the "Kapers" is an all-student production, with music arrangements and dances handled by the students.

The musical revue will contain satires, a circus sequence, dance routines and other acts.

Jules Irving is directing the musical. Technical director will be Warren Massey. Rod Perkins will head the lighting and Ken O'Hara the costumes.

Dr. Enochs Named New Dean of Men

Room 106, office of the Dean of Men, will undergo a change this fall.

Dr. James B. Enochs, associate professor of education, has been appointed Dean of Men, replacing Dr. John H. Cornelsen Jr., who resigned his position April 25 to accept an appointment as professor of guidance and personnel administration at New York University.

Dr. Enochs will take over his new position this fall.

Dr. Cornelsen, who has been at State since 1946, had this to say concerning his move: "It was a difficult decision to make. I've enjoyed my associations here. I accepted the position at State because of the dynamic leadership of President Leonard and the plans he had for the development of an experimental program in higher education."

"I'm leaving because the new position offers the possibility of professional opportunities."

Dr. Cornelsen has also been a member of the Board of Directors since 1946.

His successor, Dr. Enochs, received his BA at Arizona State Teachers' College; his MA and PhD at the University of Chicago.

He was on the examination staff of the Armed Forces Institute. Dr. Enochs taught at Stephens College, 1944-46, and was director of admissions and associate professor of education at University of Denver before coming to State in 1948.

Probation Jobs Open to Seniors

An opportunity to enter training for career service in professional probationary work is being offered to State graduates and graduating seniors by the Los Angeles County Probation Department, said Mrs. Alma Downey, placement secretary.

Appointment of 25 trainee officers will be made, according to North Sanders of the Los Angeles Department, who is coming to the campus this week to interview applicants.

Editing Positions Open

Applications are still being accepted for summer and fall positions on the staff of the Golden Gater, Franciscan and Inklings. Students interested in applying must turn in their petitions to the Golden Gater office, Hut 4-B, before 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Appointments will be announced at the semi-annual publications banquet Wednesday night.

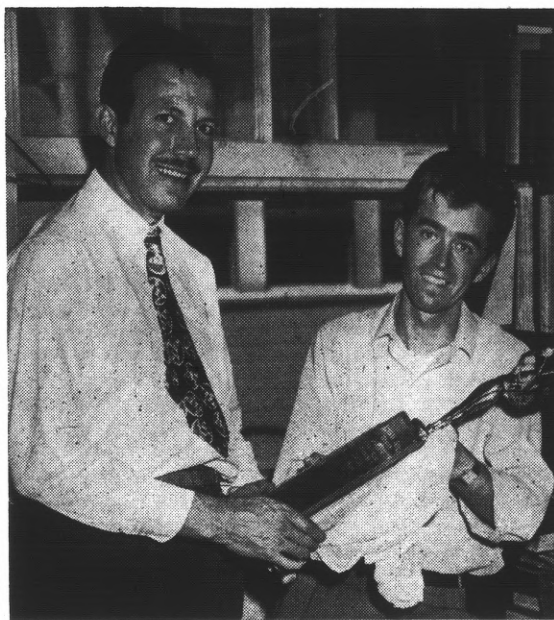

Other activities to commemorate State's first fifty years were announced this week by Mary A. Ward, dean of women.

They include: a Senior Ball, State's first formal ball since the war, to be held in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel, Saturday night, May 21; an Award and Alumni Banquet by the Women's Athletic Association to be held that same evening; a family picnic at the new campus Sunday, May 22, presented by the Alumni Association for seniors and faculty members; and a carnival Wednesday afternoon, May 25, sponsored by the Associated Students.

Dean Ward also stated that the college will be host to some of the nation's leading educators when they attend a conference here July 27 to 29 to discuss "After Fifty Years of Progress in Education, What Next?"

The closing event of the jubilee will be a dedication ceremony at the new campus next fall.

A compilation of the school's history is now being prepared for publication in the near future, Dean Ward said.

Health Council Undergoes Revamping; Staters Added

Enrollment For Summer On June 27

Summer session programming procedure for students enrolled this semester has been announced by Miss Florence Vance, college registrar. Program cards should be made out with faculty advisers and officially filed with the Registrar's Office at a time to be designated later.

Final registration and payment of fees for the summer session will be on June 27. On the same day class cards will be distributed in the following alphabetical order: A-C... 8:30-9:30 L-O... 1:00-2:00 D-G... 9:30-10:30 P-R... 2:00-3:00 H-K... 10:30-12:00 S-Z... 3:00-4:00

Eight Faculty Promotions Made

Eight faculty promotions were made this week, President J. Paul Leonard announced yesterday.

Promoted from instructors to assistant professors are: Mrs. Blanche Drury, Miss Eleanor Bushnell, Mr. Arthur J. Hall.

Those going from assistant professor to associate professor are: Mr. Gerald A. Ballou, Mr. John Gutmann, Mrs. Bernice V. Peterson, Dr. Leonard T. Pockman and Mr. George C. Feliz.

State's Health Council is currently undergoing radical reorganization, Dr. Margaret Leonard, director of the health project, revealed today.

The new council will have equal student-faculty representation in contrast to the former faculty majority group. It was also announced that there will be a meeting of student representatives of this and next term's council Thursday in Frederic Burk, Room 113, at 12:30 to discuss policies and major problems.

"The reason behind the revision is the feeling that students are in a good position to determine and offer solutions to health problems and hazards. Better student representation is vital to the success of the council," Dr. Leonard explained.

The twelve student members will represent:

- 1) Chairman of the Welfare Board (who is also vice-president of the Board of Directors);
- 2) The president of the Freshman Class;
- 3) One member-at-large from the Board of Directors (under 32 units);
- 4) Member of Student Board representing N.S.A.;
- 5) Member-at-large of student body;
- 6) One representative from each of the following organizations: WAA, California Student Teachers Association, Creative Arts Production Board, Beta Pi Sigma, Mental Hygiene Association, International Relations and Block S.

Required S.B. Cards Urged By Board

Consideration of a required student body fee was brought before the Board of Directors last Tuesday by Dr. John H. Cornelsen, dean of men.

The tentative suggestion will be submitted to the heads of State Colleges, Dean Cornelsen said. Until then the matter is invalid to the Board members.

Alpha Chi Alpha, service sorority, sent a letter to the Board explaining its misunderstanding concerning the distribution of the Golden Gater.

Dinner Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Smorgasbord Dinner, presented in connection with the Spring Carnival, are now on sale in the Golden Gater Office, Hut 4-B, and from campus organizations, according to Jim Schwerdt, activities commissioner.

The dinner will be held in the Co-op Wednesday, May 25, at 5:30.

Sports Double Bill Stated Tomorrow

State's sports enthusiasts will be treated to a double-bill tomorrow afternoon at the Lake Merced campus, starting at 1:30. In track, the Gaters meet Chico State.

At Maloney Field the State baseball squad plays Cal Aggies. This marks the final "home" appearance of the season for both Gater teams.

40 High Schools Represented in Forensic Tourney

Pacific Forensic Tourney of 1949 began this morning at 8, and will continue on campus until 6 p.m. tomorrow, with some 40 high schools all over California participating.

Students began registering at State this morning with three to 40 representatives from each school. Highlighting the two-day debating tournament will be high school debating, radio broadcasting, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking and dramatic declamation. Judges will be State students from various speaking departments.

TOURNAMENT REVIVED

The tournament is being revived after discontinuance just prior to the war, Courtney Pontious, president of the Speakers' Bureau, said. Object of the annual event, he added, is to promote an interest in speaking activities in high school and get publicity for the college.

Grand prize of the tournament will be a 20-inch trophy, donated by Granat Brothers Jewelers, which will go to the high school amassing the greatest amount of points. Twenty-five smaller trophies will be awarded to individual winners.

BANQUET SET

Climax of the event will be a banquet in the Co-op tomorrow at 6 p.m. All students are invited, Pontious disclosed. Cost will be $1.75 a person.

Pontious sends out an appeal for more students to judge the debating. Those interested can see him any time today or tomorrow in the Activities Room.

'Operashops' Debut at Marina High

Twenty soloists from State's Opera Workshop, accompanied by State's symphony orchestra, will present a program of opera excerpts at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Marina Junior High School Auditorium.

The affair marks the first of this type sponsored by the college, according to Dr. William E. Knuth, professor of music and head of the Division of Creative Arts, who directs the orchestra.

Among selections to be heard will be numbers from La Traviata, Martha, Lakme, Don Giovanni, Il Trovatore, Faust and Rigoletto. The orchestra will render the overture to Wanda by Dvorak.

A preview of the event will be given Tuesday morning for an assembly at the school.

The auditorium is located at Bay and Fillmore Streets. A "22" bus provides direct transportation. Admission to the musicale is free.

300 Students In Housing Poll

Three hundred women students answering to the recent housing poll, taken by Mary A. Ward, dean of women, stated that double room dormitories would be the preferred living conditions at the new campus.

The questionnaires were divided into two groups: women over 22 years of age, and under 22.

A larger percentage of the first group requested rooms at a maximum of $75. The latter group, into which the majority fell, showed a preference for double rooms, housekeeping facilities and dormitories, the cost each month not exceeding $50 per student.

Art Club Dance

A Costume Ball will be given by State's Art Club tonight at the Creative Art Center.

Tickets for the affair are 50 cents a person, stag or drag. They are being sold by members of the Art Club in front of the Co-op.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the Creative Art Center, 1059 Steiner Street.

PRAISE '49 YEARBOOK

State's gold covered Franciscan made its debut this week. And from initial reactions, the journal has won the praise of campus critics.

The 1949 yearbook is a beautiful job. What with the most thorough pictorial coverage, many old timers here rate it the best ever. If it doesn't gain that deserved distinction, it comes extremely close.

Credit for this piece of outstanding work goes to a small group of conscientious Staters. Under Editor-in Chief Jean Heldoorn, the students gathered nightly to work over cut lines, identify pictures and arrange make-up. Many times the job lasted until 2 o'clock in the morning.

By working tenaciously, this group saw to it that State's Golden Anniversary Edition would come out on time. It did!

Congratulations to an efficient, energetic Franciscan staff for a terrific job!

Editor Jean Heldoorn stated that only a few more Franciscans remain unsold. They will be sold on a first come first serve basis. Price is $3 with student body card. The yearbook is on sale at the Student Body Office. BUY YOUR SOUVENIR FRANCISCAN TODAY!

SOAP OPERA OR EDUCATION?

Radio Serial Strikes Foul

By JOHN BENSON

Our main public library (which, incidentally, is beginning to resemble a publicity agency for the Market Street theaters) displays a poster promising "soap opera" to anyone who listens to a radio series on venereal disease, aired Monday evenings on a local station. If "soap opera" is the desired effect then the series is a success. If, however, the purpose of the broadcasts is to inform rather than to "entertain," then there is some doubt as to their achievement.

The series, which began in January and is to continue through June, consists of twenty-two 15-minute programs, half of which are of the drama or "soap opera" variety.

Venereal disease has always been a subject surrounded by ignorance, and consequently, fear; and certainly it is worth while to have enlightenment on the problem. The objection is: the method in which the material is presented.

TOO MUCH MUSH!

As any half-way intelligent radio listener can tell you, "soap opera" is in no way connected with real life. The basis for this particular type of radio drama is "romantic love," that slick, saccharine stuff abundantly found in our popular magazines and movies.

Now what could be more disastrous than to deal with venereal disease in the ambiguous terms of "romantic love"? But that is just what this series does. Take the case of Torchy Allen, for example, a singularly involved one since it took three weeks (45 minutes) to solve.

Torchy is a young night club singer out for a good time. (Just what Torchy's idea of a good time is is never satisfactorily explained.) Being innocent, or rather, ignorant, Torchy acquires something bad. We know it is bad, otherwise why should she say in such a horrible whisper, gonorrhea?

Anyway, this nastiness is taken care of in jig time, and Torchy falls in love with a "nice guy." However, the "bad guy," the guy who in some mysterious way got Torchy into her trouble, is fooling around with another girl, who also is looking for a good time. Torchy attempts to save this girl and is warned by the "bad guy" that if she does not shut up he might spill the beans about you-know-what to the "nice guy."

COMES THE CONFESSION

Then there is a fist fight between the "nice guy" and the "bad guy," which is promptly followed by a full "confession" by Torchy, and all ends happily with some really nauseating dialogue, which I had thought here to fore was an exclusive feature of the love pulps.

Apparently the moral of the story is: Little girls looking for a good time should avoid the "bad guys" and latch on to the "nice guys," the bad being distinguished from the good ones by their gangster appearance and sinister way of speaking. Needless to say, this is a most dangerous doctrine.

If you already know quite a bit about venereal disease, and life, you may find these programs entertaining—in a perverse sort of way. If, however, your education is lacking, you will be better off listening to Jack Smith.

FROM RUMANIA

Student Escapes Red Occupation!

By ARTHUR DUFFY

State College may rightfully be called the meeting place of the twin. For attending the college are students from Asia, the East, and Europe, the West.

Their adventures might well be material for a Hollywood movie. One interesting case is that of a native born Athenian whose name is withheld for sake of convenience.

The story behind his presence at State opens just prior to the World War II in Bucharest, Rumania. Here he had heard and dream of U. S. and California.

"An attraction exerting a charm over almost all Europeans, is your legendary, magnificent California," he relates.

However, war came and he had his first contact with the United States in the form of raiding Liberators and Superfortresses.

"We cursed, but at the same time blessed these bombers, for we knew they would mean freedom in the long run," he says.

RUSSIA MOVED IN

His hopes for freedom were eclipsed in 1944 when Russian forces occupied Rumania and set up their "harsh" policy.

"I did come in contact with a few American officers during the early occupation," he revealed. "They impressed me as being friendly, helpful and care-free."

Life became more and more unbearable under the Russians so that he requested permission to continue his studies abroad but was refused and told that the Communists were developing an "excellent democratic educational system." There was no course left but to escape illegally.

ESCAPES PRISON

The details of his flight from Rumania reads like a Dashiell Hammett plot. He remembers crawling through fields, always by night, long black wintry nights. Once he was arrested but managed to escape through a window in the prison.

By March, 1946, he reached the American zone of Germany. The next two and one-half years saw him visiting the German University of Frankfurt am Main, then Switzerland's quaint Lausanne, "the most aristocratic and beautiful city of Europe."

"I applied for a visa for one year study in the U. S. at the American Consulate at Geneva. I obtained it after four months, and subsequently landed in New York. I traveled through many American cities and finally arrived in San Francisco."

He is enrolled at State College this semester and finds things "different."

He readily admits that he was lucky in his choice. If the government will let him, he would like to stay in America. He also thinks continuously of his wife still in Paris, and yearns for better days when they might be together again.

Teacher Aids Handicapped

By BETTY KROESING

Somewhere in the deep recesses of Frederic Burk School there is a Special Education Department. And there, among her craft, we find Miss Mable Brenn. She is the specialist in the field of the physically handicapped here at State.

Miss Brenn doesn't recall exactly when she became interested in the handicapped child, inasmuch as she has spent a great deal of her life with them.

Having worked her way through college, Miss Brenn began teaching school after a three-year span working in a hospital.

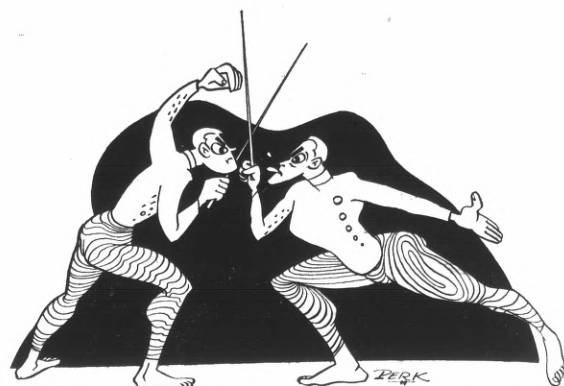

After being trained in the special field of the physically handicapped, at Columbia, she worked at the St. Jules Convalescent Home for Crippled Children in Long Island, New York.

She also attended Dr. Carlson's School for Cerebral Palsied Children.

Although she has done considerable work with crippled children, Miss Brenn says that is not her only interest. She would like to see all handicapped children receive education in the normal fashion, as any other children.

Miss Brenn came to State in the summer of 1948. She had only intended to remain a short time but liked her work and the environment so well that she decided to stay indefinitely. She is originally from New Hampshire.

Sword Play Gains New Fame

By AL MARTINEZ

Previously unsung, almost forgotten fencing is at last coming into its own at State College.

Introduced by Mr. Leonard Duckworth, assistant in physical education, in 1940, the sport rose from obscurity and continued to progress under Coach Ray Kaufman, who took over in 1942. The team is now coached by Mr. Thelwall Proctor.

During the war it began to disintegrate with the presence of only one male on the team.

Last year State finally had a fencing team: Don Pederson, Bill Coleman and Bernard Golumb. They lost twice to University of California, once to Stanford and won one from the latter. Then they went on to compete at the Berkeley YMCA.

LOST TO CAL

In a meet with Cal, April 7 of this year, the team took part in what Mr. Proctor termed "one of the cleanest, hardest fought matches I have ever seen..." State lost it by the margin of 14-11.

A week later State trounced Stanford, 16-9 — another step toward a well-rounded team, their lone defeat notwithstanding.

Gerald Biagini, freshman fencing veteran of eight years, is the peer of State fencers. Starting as a youngster, the polished Biagini is rated as one of the finest fencers in the area. A member of the Olympic Club fencing team, he has swept 10 straight matches in the last two meets.

In an oversized class of about 30, four men make up the varsity team: Pederson, Biagini, Golumb and Bill Tobin. There are numerous substitutes. The average class usually numbers around 12. There is a nucleus of experience with a steady supply of promising beginners.

PEDERSON IN FINALS

Golumb and Pederson took part in the Amateur Fencers League of America competition. Pederson got into the finals—Golumb missing by one touch.

"We're looking forward to more and better competition next year," Mr. Proctor says. "San Jose State has begun fencing, and it is rumored that Santa Clara and College of Pacific will brandish the foil. That will mean more actual practice for State."

The fencing class meets from 5-7 p.m. Tuesdays in the Women's Gym. The varsity team meets Thursdays. In addition to the opportunity of winning a major block letter, fencers can earn a half unit in the sport—one unit for intercollegiate competition.

SPORTS BEAT

By GORDON RADDUE

A meaty topic being tossed around State's "hot stove league" of late is that of whether or not State should withdraw from the Far Western Conference. A recent meeting of the Athletic Council found the Gater coaches equally divided on the subject, which is of vital importance to the future significance of State athletic teams.

One of the most important arguments in favor of withdrawal is the travel issue. Because of the tremendous distance between San Francisco and Ashland, Oregon, home of Southern Oregon College, Coach Dan Farmer's basketball teams are forced to play two game series against both the Raiders and Humboldt State in less than a week in order to cut down travel expenses. In addition to the loss of effectiveness the team suffers from such a rigorous program, there is also the problem of key players being forced to pass up the trip north in favor of work or family responsibilities.

Certainly, if such conditions as these were to continue, the only solution to the problem would be withdrawal from the conference, in lieu of playing loop contests with a weakened lineup and at a loss in expenses. This condition also hurts the home game attendance, because if State has a losing team, no matter what the causes may be, the local fans will stay away from the games in droves. However, Dean David J. Cox, chairman of the division of health, physical education and recreation, has a more practical approach to the problem. He proposes a revamping of the athletic schedules that would alleviate the travel burden imposed on Gater teams year in and year out.

As things stand at present, the schedules in football and basketball favor the most distant members of the conference, Southern Oregon and Humboldt State, who have gone all out to develop their two paying sports, basketball and football, at the cost of sacrificing their chances in the other profitless sports. The other three schools of the conference, Chico State, Cal Aggies and State, notably the latter two, seem destined to lag behind their Northern brothers in the two major sports, simply because they are giving the other sports equal consideration. It is the duty of all the conference schools to co-operate fully with their fellow members in all sports on the agenda, and not merely to pursue money and fame in basketball and football. If a school does not fulfill this obligation, it doesn't belong in the Far Western Conference, or any conference.

A very strong argument in favor of State remaining in the conference fold is the fact that it gets an added lift in its relations with other schools by being a member of a conference. Now that State has gone and joined the Far Western Conference, it must become a very potent member of the loop before it can break away without a drop in prestige. If the Gaters withdrew from the fold, there surely would be cynics around who would claim that State found the going too tough with the other four schools. Chances of State becoming such a power are not to be scoffed at. Enrollment is increasing each semester, and some day State is going to have a beautiful new campus, so we hear, that is going to have a lot more appeal to athletes than the present one.

This writer's opinion on the matter is that State should remain in the conference, for the time being at least, and see what happens when the new campus becomes a reality. State can start fielding winning teams right away if the attitude of the athletes is kept up by giving them the credit they deserve for the sacrifices they make for the school, and by getting them decent jobs that won't bother their athletic and scholastic pursuits.

Promises of good things have been made toward the latter end and it looks like they will be kept. State gives athletes something that many of them value above a handout, and that is a chance to see plenty of action in their chosen sports. The opportunity to play full-time means a lot to an athlete, and upon it is based the future of San Francisco State, which will be molded in the immediate years to follow.

HOT CINDERS!

Tide Cindermen
Duel With Chico

By GEORGE KAMIAN

A combination of hard luck and high altitude breathing difficulties enabled the Nevada Wolfpack to defeat a determined State squad, 83 to 48, last Saturday at Reno. The meet was the scene of shoddy officiating, with such things as the two milers being forced to run an extra lap because the lap count was not kept; the failing to disqualify Nevada's Spangler after he broke twice, and such other incidents combined with the breathing problem, somewhat dented the sails of the Gater machine.

Sharp, a freshman, turned in a creditable performance as he took a surprising first in the mile. Ciappini and Crawford took second and third in the 440, while Parish and DeVries had to be content with second and third in the 100 after the starter spotted Spangler two yards, and credited him with a 9.7 century.

Ciappini, who ran with a painful tooth, copped the 880 in 2:04.4, while Carroll was continuing to penetrate the stratosphere with a vault of 13 feet. Bob Keropian jumped with a painful leg and still won the broad jump with a 21' 10" effort. He may miss tomorrow's meet with Chico. Charles Parish also took a second in the 120 highs to bring his season's total to 71 points.

The Gaters meet Chico tomorrow at our home field and all are welcome to come and watch. It will be the last home track meet of the year, and all friends of the track team will be cordially welcomed. The two teams did not meet last year, due to bad weather.

Roy Ciappini is next with 56, followed by Brennan, 48; Arfsten, 44; Carroll, 36; Keropian, 36; Crawford, 25; Vickers, 23; and DeVries, 21.

HEAVY DUTY MEN—Showing at Cox Stadium for the last time this season tomorrow against Chico State will be Arf Arfsten, right, and Roy Ciappini, left. Arfsten will toss the shot and discus, while Ciappini will go the 440 and 880-yard grinds. (Photos by Bob Nicholson)

Alpha Zetas Cop
Mural Track Meet

The Alpha Zeta Sigma fraternity took first place in the intramural track meet held last Wednesday at the new campus with 36 3/5 points. Second place honors went to the Kappa Omega with 31 3/5 points and the third spot was captured by the East Bay A. C.

The individual scores in all events are to be official intramural records because of the fact that this was the first annual meet.

Many of the efforts are noteworthy when it is considered that they were made without the benefit of regulation equipment.

Outstanding marks were Bob Kroeckel's 10-foot jump in the pole vault; Graham Knox's 134-foot toss in the javelin; Ed Kenna's 5.9 3/4 leap in the high jump; and Howie Shinnerer's 12.29 performance in the two mile.

Paddlers Win, Lose
In Swimming Tests

State's mermen journeyed to Davis last Friday and lost to Cal Aggies, 50-24, after defeating Alameda Naval Air Station, 56-19, on May 3 at Alameda.

In the latter meet, State men placed first in all swimming events, but Alameda pulled down the two top spots in diving. The only other close competition came in the short sprints, but Kay Wade was able to edge the service contenders for first in each race.

Other men coping first places in the meet were Dave Devine, 220-yard free style; Lee Stanford, 150-yard backstroke; Howie Schinnerer, 200-yard backstroke; and Jim Schwerdt in the 440-yard free style.

The Aggie experience indicated the rather dark future which lies ahead for the Gaters in the conference meet May 21.

The only individual Gater first place was nailed by backstroke Vick, who won neatly in 1:53.9, which is only slightly a second off the FWC record. Vick is out to cop the record May 21, and everything indicates that he will achieve this goal.

Other individual point gainers were Kay Wade, 6; Bob Cunningham, 2; Schinnerer, 1; and Bill McMillan, who placed second with three points in the diving.

Second seeded Warren Logan and Jeanne Contel defeated Alex Swetka and Claire Anderson, 6-3, 6-0. Semi-final matches will be played at noon on Thursday.

to seven straight by downing the USS Boxer, 18-0; City College, 4-3; and Southern Oregon twice, 3-0 and 19-4.

Following are the top achievements of the week as was presented by Coach Hal Harden's superb cast:

Player of the week: Jim Johnston. Handsome Jim poked a single into left field with the bases loaded to score Jim Hughes in the final inning to down CCSF, 4-3. Johnston also gave the crowd another thrill in the fourth when he juggled a fly ball with runners aboard. This was the best game of the week, State coming from behind twice. Irv Edstrom was credited with his fifth win.

ENJALIAN HITS HARD

Hitler of the week: Ray Enjaian batted a cool .500 for the week, with six hits in 12 trips to the plate. Ray scored six times. Close behind was Hughes with a .444 mark.

Fielder of the week: Mike Keropian. The Gater shortstop played terrific ball the entire week. Against CCSF he went to the second base position from deep short stop and threw the runner out. Spectators claimed that it was the best play ever made in Maloney Field.

Pitchers of the week: John Pasanen and Cub Rubio. Both pitched shutouts. Pasanen twirled a two-hitter against the USS Boxer, while Rubio halted Southern Oregon with six. It was Pasanen's second win, while it was victory number four for Rubio.

CLAYTON COOLS RAIDERS

Surprise of the week: Earl Clayton. The quiet pitcher hurled his fourth win against Southern Oregon. He has but one loss. Clayton also collected two singles and a double, driving in three runs. In the Boxer game he handled himself adequately at third base.

Hustler of the week: Ted Abbott. The Richmond lad's peppery chatter played a leading role in the Gaters' win streak. Against the USS Boxer, Abbott picked up a wild throw to first and threw the runner out at second. A major feat for a catcher.

Martyr of the week: Bob Kroeckel. The blond flash practically gave his right shoulder for his alma mater in the Boxer tilt. Caught between third and home, he rammed the opposing catcher to score. Kroeckel was in the stands the next day. Bob stole four bases in this game.

Reserve of the week: Dick Diamond. The New Yorker connected for a two-run double against the Boxer in a pinch hit role.

Injury dept.: Ron Kamb left the CCSF game with a badly sprained ankle. Compensating for this was the return of Vince Custodio, who had been sidelined with injuries.

Students Will 'Rough it' At Field Science School

By HENRY PEOPLES

There are several reasons why one might want to attend the Biological Field Science School this summer in Bixby Canyon, Monterey County. For instance, some girls might find out that last year's classes were made up solely of 15 "lonely" males. Then, too, what city-dweller wouldn't like to lose himself in a forest of redwoods for a few weeks.

However, the principal appeal of the program will be for prospective teachers and those interested in natural history who appreciate the value of first-hand experiences in learning.

STREAMS FOR FISHING

A permanent fresh water trout stream runs through the camp, which is located in a large meadow. Since students are expected to furnish their own food as well as camping equipment, the ability to fish would come in handy.

The school will be held from June 27 to August 5 under the direction of Miss Edna Fisher, associate professor of science.

STUDY OF PLANTS

The study of the plants and animals of the region will be emphasized, and the following courses will be included in the program: B.S. 98; Field Natural History 198 and 298; Special Problems in Natural History, 151; Field Entomology, 152; Field Botany, 153; Vertebrate Zoology and 154; and field studies in Ecology.

Application blanks for those interested should be obtained from the Division of Natural Science in Anderson Hall. Payment of fees must be made by June 3, and necessary information regarding the trip may be obtained from Miss Fischer, Room 200, Anderson Hall.

English Class Will Tour Mother Lode Country
An excursion to the Mother Lode country, starting tomorrow, is being planned by Hugh C. Baker, professor of English, for his class in English 142, Literature of the West.

SENIOR EVENTS

Luncheon Planned At Palace Hotel

Graduating seniors will attend a Senior Luncheon at the Rose Room of the Palace Hotel on Thursday, June 9, at 1 p.m. Preceding the luncheon will be the Senior Pilgrimage, which will be held on-campus that morning.

Tickets will cost $2.75 per person and will feature roast chicken entrée. Miss Ruth Fleming and Mr. A. S. Bouleware, retiring faculty members, will be guests of honor at the luncheon.

Students are needed for committee work on decorations, publicity, programming and arrangements. Yvette Codis, luncheon committee chairman, or Ken Shelley, class president, will receive applications for committee work from any senior student.

Graduation ceremonies will take place Saturday, June 11, at 8 p.m. in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium. The event is open to all faculty and friends of the graduates.
